Issue

Rancho™ RS66301B, RS66302B - NEW Stamped Steel Upper Control Arm

Corrective Action

Reason For Bulletin: Is to help in the determination of which suspension system you need to use/order on the Chevrolet/GMC Silverado/Sierra 1500. GM recently released a new stamped steel upper control arm that uses the larger taper ball joint found in the aluminum upper control arm. If you order RS66301B based upon seeing a steel upper control arm, the ball joint taper will not fit into the knuckle. RS66302B must be used with this NEW arm.
